McGraw After

John McGraw of the New York Giants seeks new laurels in the managerial world.

No manager has ever won three world series in a row. That is what McGraw is aiming at.

The peppery leader of the Giants is on the way to accomplish that desire. He won a pennant and a world championship in 1921.

McGraw believes that the addition of Groh, and possibly one or two other deals he has in mind, will render the Gants well night invincible for a couple of years.

It is said McGraw plans to retire from the active management tire from the active management of the club at the close of the 1923
